

Certifying Out of Home Operators in Europe
European Forum for Certification
at the BioFach Trade Fair in Nuremberg
Saturday, 20th February 2010 at 10:00 – 11:30
Room Oslo, CCN Ost/East

10:00		Opening the session Camilla Mikkelsen, IFOAM-EU Group, Brussels, Belgium Carola Strassner, a'verdis and University of Applied Sciences, Muenster, Germany
10:00-10:15		Status Quo of Organic Certification for Restaurants and Catering in Austria Sabine Taudes, Austria Bio Garantie, Austria
10:15-10:30		Introduction of organic produce in the French catering sector and work on the regulation Marine Renaudin, Institut National de l'Origine et de la Qualité (INAO), France
10:30-10:45		Marketing organically sourced large scale kitchens – a Danish model Dorthe Kloppenborg, Økologisk Landsforening, Denmark
10:45-11:00		Christopher Atkinson, Soil Association, UK
11:00-11:15		Opinions in Europe on Certification of Mass Catering Melanie Lukas, University of Applied Sciences, Muenster, Germany
11:15-11:30		Discussion
11:30		Closing the session

Programme organised and presented by	 www.fh-muenster.de/fb8	 www.a-verdis.com	 www.ifoam.org
---------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------