

Construction and Implementation of an Organic Agriculture Legislation: The Brazilian case

Bertoncello, B., and Bellon, S.<sup>1</sup>

Keywords: organic market, certification, Brazil, participation process, small farm agriculture

Abstract

Since organic agriculture is becoming legitimate, Brazil has also chosen to involve itself by adopting the legislation n°10.831/2003. As a crossroad between international and domestic rules, we explore (1) the opportunities coming from this text and its application, (2) the attached production patterns and certification processes, and (3) their socioeconomic consequences, and notably on small farm agriculture.

---

<sup>1</sup> National Institute for Agricultural Research INRA SAD, UR 767 Ecodevelopment, Domaine Saint Paul, Site Agroparc, 84914 Avignon Cedex 9. Corresponding author: bellon@avignon.inra.fr